

The concept of exploiting a fireplace or a stove, turning these into a boiler becomes a good solution increasingly appreciated by customers because with the same wood used to keep alive the fire it's possible heat the whole house.

There are also versions combined pellets or wood / pellets.

This news are produced by Pontani service specialist in energy saving and renewable, alternatives energy